

Tdap Vaccine
for all pregnant
women

It is important that pregnant patients get the Tdap vaccine in every pregnancy.

Tdap will protect you and your baby from pertussis. Tdap vaccine stimulates the development of antibodies, which will pass through the placenta, providing your baby with protection against pertussis.

Other children and adults in contact with your baby should get the Tdap vaccine, too!

*Ask at your next OB appointment or call our offices to schedule
your Tdap vaccine today!*
